

Fernie Castle

We welcome Fernie Castle, near Fife, into the Celtic Castles portfolio

Above: Fernie Castle in the spring time. The exterior of the castle building was recently renovated.

Opposite Top: Outside the Treehouse Suite at Fernie Castle.

Opposite Bottom Left: One of the Monarch Suites inside the main castle building.

Opposite Bottom Right: The bedroom inside the Treehouse Suite.

Fernie Castle is situated in a great location for anyone visiting Scotland. With easy access to Edinburgh and Glasgow, Dundee and Perth, it is also on the doorstep of the home of golf, St. Andrews. With the Highlands of Scotland only a few hours away, you could not be better positioned to get the most from your time spent in Scotland.

This 450 year old castle is situated in 17 acres of woodlands with its own loch, and has 20 en-suite rooms. In addition to these, perched in six lofty sycamores is the Fernie Castle Treehouse.

This is a two story building and the bedroom has a huge elm king sized bed and other specially designed furniture, all hand made. When this was commissioned, owners Mary and Neil Blackburn wanted to create a five star hotel suite, with total comfort in mind, including electricity, plumbing, heating, an alarm, telephone, flat screen TV, DVD, CD player and coffee maker, plus a fridge full of champagne, chocolates and other goodies. For any romantics amongst you, the treehouse is a real WOW and, as you can imagine, is very popular with brides who hold their wedding at the castle.

Climbing up what appears to be the inside of a hollow tree, one emerges into an octagonal bathroom with walls painted twilight blue and a frieze of fairies who flit among trees overhanging pools of water. The ceiling is awash with stars and a pale moon shines onto grazing unicorns; in the centre sits a huge slipper bath under a chandelier of leaves and flowers. There are three balconies all with amazing views of the surrounding countryside and one even has a swing!

Room prices start from 85 pounds per person per night for dinner, bed and breakfast and the rooms are split into 3 categories: Monarch Suites, Kings & Queens and Squires & Ladies.

This castle is a great place for family reunions, weddings and house parties, not to mention a romantic weekend away!

www.celticcastles.com/castles/fernie-castle/

